A NOTE ON BUYING 2020s

by Linden Wilkie, Managing Director

We are delighted to offer you this, our 2020 vintage Burgundy 'en primeur' offer for Hong Kong. Our senior consultant Anthony Hanson MW's report on the 2020 follows. I had the good fortune to spend a few days with Anthony in Burgundy during the summer of 2021 and we tasted to together some 2020s from barrel at a few estates. Quality and style seems promising in both whites and reds and in all regions we tasted. Of course each producer has put their own stamp on the vintage, and we have real breadth and depth here – 26 estates. So there are many ways to participate in this vintage.

Yields are down on normal in 2020. This year that was caused by a lack of rain during summer, that led to a concentration in berries – sugars, fruit, flavour, and acidity. There is an intensity to the 2020s, but from what I tasted, also a harmony. But that low yield in 2020, combined with what will be an exceptionally low yield for some wines in 2021, means there is a bit of pressure on supply.

What to buy? That's both hard and easy to answer. Easy, because quality is there across the regions, in both colours, and from regional 'Bourgogne' on up through village-level, 1er cru and grand cru. But I would encourage you to buy across these levels – not just because it makes the task of working out an allocation for you easier, but because you will want these wines in your cellar at all levels you drink. Secondly, I think you can really choose on the basis of your taste – the wines I tasted, and as Anthony reports, taste of their place. Terroirs come through in 2020. Finally, I think this is a good vintage in which to include a few things that you might not yet have had the chance to try – the Blain-Gagnard wines, which have just joined our portfolio, are classics, of high quality. Domaine Buisson-Charles, and Catharina Sadde's 'Les Horées' also join the portfolio and are worth your attention.

An offer, with pricing for Domaines Claude Dugat, Comte Goerges de Vogüé, Laurent Roumier, Perrot-Minot, and Pierre Girardin will follow in a few days' time. Feel free to express your interest now in these wines.

As always we are here to help. You will be pleased you bought some 2020s when you begin pulling the corks in the future.

Santé,

Linden Wilkie, Mike Wu and The Fine Wine Experience Team

2020 BURGUNDY GROWING SEASON AND HARVEST

Introduction by Our Resident Senior Consultant
Anthony Hanson MW

The weather was clement leading up to the all-important flowering period, which started early, in mid-May. It went through speedily and in favourable weather, which is always a key herald of fine quality. A successful flowering allows all the grapes in a given bunch to come to full ripeness together. It also enables growers to forecast when the grapes will change colour, come to maturity and need harvesting. So from late-May, it was evident that 2020 would be an early harvest. Plans could be laid for early holidaying, and for pickers to be booked for a mid- to late-August start to the vintage.

Temperatures, rain and sunshine fluctuated during June but summer was about to arrive. July was very dry and hot, with several heatwave moments, and some bunches were grilled by the sun. Early August remained dry and hot, and it became apparent that, without rain to swell the grapes, this would be a highly concentrated, low-yield vintage – as proved to be the case.

It was the driest season since 1945, according to the Dijon weather station, with rainfall 50% down on recent levels, and 20% more sunshine than normal. Growers were concerned that the year might resemble 2003, when an August heat-wave caused leaves to wilt and grapes to shrivel. Fortunately, in 2020 the reserves of water in the soil allowed vines to withstand high temperatures with fortitude, to maximise their natural sugars and to ripen tannins and grape-skins. The dry weather allowed natural acidities to be concentrated, which was a crucial factor, giving superb balance in the resulting wines. On sorting tables, those grapes which had been sunburnt needed to be removed, but otherwise the bunches were immaculately healthy.

The 2020 Reds

Given the heat and dryness of the summer, we were concerned that some of reds would have become over-ripe, with alcohol levels which would dominate their fruit intensity, and that they might lack freshness. It has been a wonderful surprise to taste wines of such vivaciousness, where the terroir origins show forth brilliantly – in many cases, more clearly than in the two previous, powerful, sun-rich vintages, 2019 and 2018. 2020 red Burgundies have superb potential for ageing, and look destined to be hailed as one of Burgundy's most exciting, recent years. There are great examples at First Growth and Grand Cru levels, and we will also be highlighting many village level and regional wines, which show beautiful quality and lovely value.

The 2020 Whites

In both 2019 and 2018, plentiful summer sunshine resulted in plump, rich wines, which are round and soft – in many cases, already making luscious drinking. The 2020 whites have intense fruitiness, with balancing, crisp, long aftertastes. Individual origins are more clearly delineated than in the two previous vintages. This is a real classic, which may be enjoyed while youthful, but where the best wines have superb concentration, and will age magnificently.

We know that frost damage in April 2021 will mean reduced availabilities of the 2021 vintage, which will be offered next year. Now is a good moment to stock up with 2020s, in both reds and whites, across the quality ranges.

ALVINA PERNOT

The latest generation of the Pernot family, and with a desire to make her own mark, is Alvina Pernot, and last year saw the debut of her “micro-négoce” eponymous label, launched with her husband Philippe Abadie. To be clear though, most of the fruit here is from her family’s domaine – Paul Pernot, with parcels chosen by Alvina especially to express her style. “We are looking to make wines with a bit more tension, so for example we chose the highest altitude parcel of the family’s four plots in Les Folatières’.

In the Alvina Pernot range, Meursault 1er Cru La Pièce sous le Bois is a vineyard which lies high on the hillside, above the hamlet of Blagny. The vines are relatively young (planted in 2005) but their roots have now penetrated deeply, the resultant fruit intensity being impressive. Puligny-Montrachet 1er Cru Les Folatières is exceptional here, with the plot benefitting from some cool shading, from a nearby stand of trees. Corton- ↓ 24 Aug 2020 - Alvina bringing in Puligny-Montrachet-Montrachet Les Noyers grapes, a new cuvée for her this year, with partner Philippe Abadie for cool, evening pressing.

Charlemagne is an addition to the range since 2019, the grapes coming from En Charlemagne, on the cooler, south-western, Pernand-Vergelesses section of the Grand Cru.

DOMAINE AMIOT-SERVELLE

The 8ha organic (since 2008) domaine was established in 1990 when Christian Amiot married Elisabeth Servelle. It's located in the heart of Chambolle-Musigny. Daughter Prune joined as winemaker in 2011, and in 2017 the handover from Christian to Prune was complete. Full phenolic ripeness and a clean temperature-controlled method is the key.

Vines in the 1st Growth plots here average 30 years of age, while Clos-Saint-Denis and Charmes-Chambertin are both around 70 years old. The wines were macerated at cool temperature before fermentation, then the grapes were gently squashed. There was careful judging of the percentages of whole clusters for each cuvée : 30%-35% for Morey-Saint-Denis and the 1er Cru Chambolle-Musigny Les Charmes and Derrière la Grange, just 20% for Les Bas-Doix, with over 50% for Charmes-Chambertin, Clos-Saint-Denis and Les Amoureuses.

Chambolle-Musigny 1er Cru Les Borniques has been separately vinified since 2017. This is a tiny plot which touches Le Musigny, giving too few grapes for a traditional vat. So one or two new, 400-litre barrels are ordered, to be set upright with the head removed, so fermentation happens in the barrel. Then, the wine is run off into one-year old barrels, so that the new-oak input of the fermentation vessel should not be compounded with more new oak, during ageing. All wines were racked, including their fine lees, in September, then restored to their barrels to pass their 2nd winter in wood, prior to assembling in vat and bottling in the next February.

DOMAINE ARMAND HEITZ

↑ 31 Aug 2020 - Armand Heitz smartly dressed in breeches and beret to receive his 2020 grapes. In addition to domaine wines, there will be extra cuvées from bought-in grapes in 2020.

Armand Heitz is the 5th generation of the family to own vines in Chassagne-Montrachet, dating back to his Lochardet ancestors, from 1857. His parents Brigitte and Christian were content for the grapes to go to local négociants, however Armand completed his studies in 2011, and was making the wines here, domaine-bottling, from 2013. He has expanded the estate from his parents' 5 hectares, clawing back vineyards which had been rented out to other vigneron to cultivate.

Armand farms the vines using organic practices, with increasing focus on the bio-diversity of his vineyards and the land around them, wishing to stay as close to nature as possible, encouraging bees and other insects. "May the terroir character emerge from the glass, not our actions," he declares, and, concerning his wine-making: "Our best investment in the winery is a chair, so we can watch the vats doing the work, not us."

Stand-out whites at this domaine include two Meursaults. La Barre comes from a vineyard planted in 1969 and 2008. Shallow, marly-limestone soils, with clay, give a densely fruity wine of balanced freshness. Les Perrières is a pebble-rich, star vineyard at the estate, ¾ hectare in size, planted in 1962, 1983 & 1988. This is often seen, of course, as Meursault's greatest 1er Cru. Chassagne-Montrachet Tête du Clos is a rarely-seen section of Morgeot, and was planted in 1954, giving a wine of steely, intense fruit, which benefits from bottle-age.

Amongst the reds, the Pommard comes from a south-facing plot, high on the hillside, planted way back in 1964. Beaune Boucherottes and Chassagne-Montrachet Morgeot rouge are also from seriously ancient vines, planted in 1964. Volnay Taillepieds and Pommard Rugiens are two of the most iconic vineyards of the Côte de Beaune.

DOMAINE BLAIN GAGNARD

Jean-Marc Blain and his family domaine work 9 hectares, in Chassagne-Montrachet mostly for both reds and whites, but also a white in Puligny-Montrachet and reds in Volnay and Pommard. They are 60% white / 40% red by plantings, and 70% white / 30% red by production. Tasting 2020s from barrel and 2019s from bottle in the cellars in July 2021 we found the wines to be pure, expressive, appealing, with fine balance and textures.

This begins already with the impressive village-level bottlings, and the Chassagne-Montrachet Blanc includes – and always has done – 30% of 1er Cru level fruit, which speaks to their commitment to quality. Blain-Gagnard are the second largest owner of 1er Cru ‘La Boudriotte’, a part of Morgeot, but always bottled separately here because the soil is different – limestone marl with pebbles, giving a taut, high energy, mineral and focused wine. The 1er Cru bottled as ‘Morgeot’ is from red clay with very few pebbles, and gives a fuller creamier, broad and palate-coating wine.

At the top of the whites hierarchy, Blain-Gagnard are owners in grands crus Criots-Bâtard-Montrachet (elegant, mineral, creamy, good length), Bâtard-Montrachet (broad, thick on attack, but tapering to a fine more taut finish), and Le Montrachet (very fine, detailed, rich, mineral and full, grand but discreet, with fine acidity).

The red 1er Cru from Chassagne-Montrachet – ‘Clos Saint Jean’ offers one of the village’s most refined reds according to Jean-Marc, it typically produces one of the more airy and delicately styled wines, more akin to Volnay. Likewise the Volnay 1er Cru ‘Pitres’ is chalky-textured, elegant with fine grip.

DOMAINE BUISSON-CHARLES

Louis Essa and his father Patrick Essa are leading Domaine Buisson-Charles in the heart of Meursault. Covering 8 hectares, they are professionals of Meursault wines. You might ask yourself why the domaine bears that name? Patrick's wife, Catherine Buisson, daughter of Michel Buisson, is carrying a long line of winemakers in her family.

Historically, the domaine has always ploughed its vineyards instead of using weedkiller, they are thoughtful and organic in their way of managing the estate: small yields, hand harvested, strict sorting, no correction made on must or grapes. Their reds are fermented with whole clusters, giving the wines a nice bouquet, and rich personality. The whites are vigorous and powerful, with each vineyard expressing its nuances. I enjoy them young, but they can definitely age. Limited new oak is used for both colours.

In Meursault there are multiple styles. Those who have succeeded the most are obviously Coche Dury, Jean-Marc Roulot and Arnaud Ente, all so-called early pickers, as usually they are the first ones to harvest their plots. Domaine Buisson Charles on the contrary is most of the time one of the last ones to pick its grapes. Does it mean their wines are heavy, or jammy? In fact, they are not. Of course, a certain concentration comes from that ripeness but it is very well integrated. Louis and Patrick manage to keep a good level of acidity that gives extra length and makes them complete wines.

Great wines, and a great estate, it is a must to taste them.

DOMAINE CHRISTIAN CLERGET

↑ 28 Aug 2020 - Christian Clerget started Wed. 26 Aug., but not picking two days later, to allow Friday rain to come and go. The new cuvée here Chambolle-Musigny Les Croix, 1st made in 2019, will feature again in 2020. An in-house team of experienced pickers ensures most careful harvesting here.

The cellar for this estate is located in Vougeot and managed by Christian, his wife Isabelle and their daughter Justine. The vineyards comprise 6 hectares located in Morey-St.-Denis, Chambolle-Musigny, Vosne-Romanée and Vougeot. There is no use of herbicides, insecticides, chemical treatments or fertilizers. "Great wine is made from the best grapes", so they focus on cultivating top quality fruit in the vineyard, while practicing responsible viticulture. Grapes are meticulously scrutinized in the vineyard when picked and on the sorting table, with only the best fruit kept.

The plot of Chambolle-Musigny Aux Croix has been vinified separately since 2019. The vines are planted north-south, so the grapes catch extra sunshine and mature speedily. The two oldest vineyards in the estate are Vosne-Romanée Les Violettes and Échézeaux, which both date from 1945, though vines are replaced, of course, as ancient ones expire. Other vineyards average around 50 years of age. Like all the reds, this had spent a traditional two winters ageing in wood, to maximise stability, complexity and smoothness.

DOMAINE CLAUDE DUGAT

↓ 20 Aug 2020 - Claude Dugat on 1st day of his 2020 vintage, the famous smile

The charming Claude Dugat has perhaps the best smile in Burgundy, and it is reflected in his approach to his beloved Gevrey-Chambertin, which aims to express Pinot Noir's "amiability". The domaine is small. All the vineyards which Bertrand and Laetitia, Claude's son and daughter, now work, alongside their father, are a short walk from their ancient cellars – the 13th Century 'Celliers des Dimes' (built on a Roman base). There is always enormous intensity in the Claude Dugat wines – low yields, and immaculate fruit are then aged in a high proportion of new oak which the wines swallow completely. The wines age brilliantly, but recent vertical tastings also reveal how appealing they can be young too. Fragrance, fruit richness, and a lush supple texture are the hallmarks here. Every label is a benchmark for quality. Quantity is always the limitation.

This domaine is always among the first to harvest in the village. "Freshness goes well with Pinot," says Bertrand. "With my sister, we pay great attention to maturity of the grapes." The wines were 100% de-stemmed, as Claude has always done. "My wine is good, I like it and it pleases others," says Bertrand. The Gevrey-Chambertin cuvée comes from 8 or 10 different plots, ageing 40% in new oak. The 1er Cru is about 55% from Perrières, the balance from Craipillot (75% new barrels). Lavaux Saint Jacques and the Grands Crus all age in 100% new barrels.

The wines spend their 1st winter in the historic, semi-underground Cellier des Dîmes, then the barrels are taken below, to cooler cellarage. There they pass a summer and 2nd winter in oak, then, without fining or filtration, the wines are bottled after a full 15 or 16 months barrel-ageing. Don't be surprised if some natural deposit clings to the inside of the bottles, or falls into the punt. This is a totally natural part of the ageing process, and a normal occurrence, given how sensitively the wines have been handled. Bottles just need to settle before serving, and to be poured carefully.

(Please note the offer of this domaine will be release soon.)

HARVEST DIARY – BY ANTHONY HANSON MW

20 AUG 2020, at Domaine Claude Dugat

Some people on Côte de Nuits, like Claude Dugat, have started already - he's picked his Griotte this morning, Bertrand told me. They are working 6am till 2pm, because of the heat-wave.

↑ 1st day of harvest at Domaine Claude Dugat, Bertrand Dugat very happy having picked Lavaux St. Jacques, Charmes-Chambertin and Griotte-Chambertin between 6.30am and 12 noon.

↓ In Gevrey-Chambertin vineyard, below 1er Cru Les Perrières, small berries, very healthy bunches, a small yield.

↑ Everything is hand-picked at Claude Dugat, and solely by their own team of experienced and careful pickers. No sub-contracting of picking to a company here, they supervise everything personally.

↑ Laetitia Dugat, Bertrand's sister, not exactly busy on the sorting table, as bunches are so healthy and fine

↑ Bertrand and his mother ready to start the sorting. Bunches have been picked into small boxes, to avoid squashing of grapes and any oxidation, between vines and vat-house. Not a trace of grey rot to be seen on any of these bunches, it has been so hot and dry all July and August.

DOMAINE COMTE GEORGES DE VOGÜÉ

One of the finest and most ancient domaines in Burgundy, emblematic of the noble finesse of Chambolle-Musigny, the domaine is the largest owner of Musigny Grand Cru. From this vineyard they produce 3 wines – the red Musigny Grand Cru Cuvée Vieilles Vignes, their Chambolle-Musigny 1er Cru (Musigny from young vines), and Bourgogne Blanc (Musigny Blanc produced from Chardonnay). Bonnes-Mares Grand Cru, Chambolle-Musigny Les Amoureuses 1er Cru, and Chambolle-Musigny (a villages level label that includes some 1er Cru holdings) complete the unrivaled collection.

Domaine Comte Georges de Vogüé is unique in its long history, tracing its beginnings to the 15th century with ownership passing through 20 generations to the present proprietors. In 1925 it was inherited by Comte Georges de Vogüé, who ran the domaine for 52 years, and is now owned by his granddaughters, Claire de Causans and Marie de Ladoucette.

François Millet was hired as cellar master-oenologist in 1986, and 10 years later Eric Bourgogne was taken on as vineyard manager. In 1988 Jean-Luc Pépin joined the estate as the sales director. Under the aegis of these capable hands, the domaine ranks amongst the very best of Burgundy houses.

The domaine today owns 12.53 ha of vineyards where the main part is located in the two grand cry vineyards Musigny and Bonnes Mares. The vineyards are run more or less organically, though they do not claim organic status.

DOMAINE BACHELET

↑ 7 Sep 2020 – Nicholas Bachelet happy and thoughtful, with small berries for his Gevrey-Chambertin cuvée - sadly only one vat this year, not two as normal, due to drought in July and August. Denis Bachelet gives wry smile, with Doriane, Nicolas's wife, full-time making up the domaine team.

Domaine Denis Bachelet is a family estate that's tiny in size but big in quality. Denis Bachelet took over the domaine in 1983, and he manages the 4 hectares with his wife Marie-Jo. Since 2007, his son Nicolas and later on (2017) his partner, Doriane have been working at the domaine too. Humble, quiet and respected family, they work hard in their vineyards to produce the best grapes possible every vintage. Their aim is to produce delicate and precise wines.

For the viticulture, they practice lutte raisonnée and tend the vines according to the cycles of the moon. Denis believes that good wine is made first in the vineyard.

After careful selection of the grapes during the harvest, they are put onto a vibrating sorting table for additional sorting in the cellar. Then, they are 100% de-stemmed prior to being crushed. The grapes undergo cool maceration for approximately one week prior to fermentation which takes place with indigenous yeast.

For the ageing, Denis is mindful about using new oak simply to refine the harsh tannins sometimes found in Gevrey-Chambertin rather than to have the oak speak out or add flavours to the wine. The Gevrey-Chambertin sees approximately one third new oak and the 1er cru and grands crus receive 50% new oak. The ageing is for approximately 16-18 months depending on the cuvée and vintage.

The wines of Domaine Denis Bachelet are special because they are small production; they don't make many wines and only one grand cru, so their attention is focused. In addition, the one grand cru they make is Charmes-Chambertin, and the portion of that grand cru vineyard that they own is the very best.

DOMAINE EMMANUEL ROUGET

These wines are made by Emmanuel's son Guillaume, a sensitive and talented pair of hands. The Vosne-Romanée village and Echézeaux shown here are benchmark quality for the appellations but do try the range as the same hard work applies throughout.

In style, Beaumonts is fragrant and fleshy with an enticing 'Vosne-spice' character – it's the most seductive of the three. The Echézeaux is perhaps the grandest of the three, showing power and concentration with supple texture. The Cros Parantoux is perhaps the slowest to evolve, the most reserved, with intensity close to that of the Echézeaux, but with real tensile strength, precision and purity of expression. It is the most intellectually interesting of the three in my view but also requires the most patience.

(Please note that the offer for this domaine is the 2019 vintage new release except Bourgogne Hautes-Côtes de Beaune Blanc.)

DOMAINE DES EPENEAUX (COMTE ARMAND)

↑ 28 Aug 2020 – Paul Zinetti Wine-maker at Comte Armand had finished picking his Pommard Clos de Epeneaux by Fri. 28 Aug. Volume looks similar to last year. His pickers would then take one week's break, waiting for his Aligoté grapes to ripen fully.

Comte Armand, a.k.a. the Domaine des Epeneaux, one of the leading domaines in Pommard, Burgundy. The Domaine has had the benefit of highly-talented winemakers – Pascal Marchand, 1985-1998, Benjamin Leroux, in charge 1999-2014, and now Paul Zinetti, who joined in 2010 and has led since the 2014 vintage. These three have given the estate a continuity of quality at the highest level. Performance under Zinetti in particular is absolutely worth your attention, as there is a new degree of finesse in the wines.

The top wine at this estate is also a contender for lead wine of Pommard – the premier cru 'Clos des Epeneaux', a monopole of the domaine, enclosed by four walls within Petits-Epenots and Grands Epenots. Anthony notes that Zinetti follows the approach laid down by Marchand, of making separate cuvées from different plots within the Clos, before a final assemblage.

Comte Armand has been biodynamic, and organic, for a long time. Most of the harvest is de-stemmed, though depending on the vintage some whole bunches may be retained at the sorting table if in perfect health and ripeness, with the green part of the stem painstakingly removed (as we see similarly at Domaine Perrot-Minot and Domaine Leroy). The use of new oak is low, between 0% and 30% depending on the cuvée and the vintage.

MAISON ETIENNE SAUZET

Subtle changes have taken place at Étienne Sauzet since Gérard Boudot's daughter Emilie and her husband Benoît Riffault became increasingly responsible for day-to-day activities. Benoît grew up on his family wine domaine in Sancerre, but his boots today are 100% caked with the soils of Puligny-Montrachet. Étienne Sauzet's wines have been bio-dynamically cultivated since 2008/9, the wines being some of the village's purest and most precise examples.

Benoît Riffault and Emilie Boudot in charge of wine-making at Etienne Sauzet more than happy with the lovely health and balance of their Chardonnays from Puligny-Montrachet and Chassagne. They started picking on 22 August, one day earlier than in 2003, another heat-wave year. Acidifies are much better in 2020, they are delighted to note.

We warmly recommend that you let us know your wishes as soon as possible, as our allocations cover a wide range of great wines, but volumes are modest.

DOMAINE FREDERIC ESMONIN

The family estate behind many of the great Leroy-labelled Gevrey wines of the '50s and '60s, Domaine Frédéric Esmonin began domaine-bottling themselves in the 1980s. Quality today is of a very high standard, yet still sufficiently under the radar to offer great value. Vineyards are especially old (40~50 years+), wines are made with finesse of fruit and texture, allowing for young- drinking appeal, but the depth and complexity of the climats they work are clearly in evidence. The Mazy-Chambertin shows typical density of black fruit and licorice we come to expect, the Ruchottes-Chambertin, from a parcel neighbouring Rousseau's 'Clos des Ruchottes', the silky airiness, minerality and supple succulence we expect. The 'secret weapon' here is the 1er Cru 'Estournelles St.-Jacques'. This is a wonderful sunny south-facing vineyard that delivers a real succulence of fruit and natural concentration from small grapes.

DOMAINE HARMAND-GEOFFROY

This small family domaine are Gevrey-Chambertin specialists, making delicious, typically dark-fruit and wild spice character wines. Both the fruit-laden village wine and the deep, brooding grand cru offer terrific value. The domaine is 9ha of vineyards all planted to Pinot Noir in Gevrey-Chambertin. The viticulture and winemaking are both traditional offering a wonderful opportunity to truly get to know the top-notch qualities the vineyards of Gevrey have to offer.

The Gevrey-Chambertin Vieilles Vignes comes from a plot which is 50-85 years old, and has been ageing in 40% new barrels. La Perrière and Lavaut-Saint-Jacques (30-40% new barrels) are also from old vines, while Grand Cru Mazis-Chambertin (85% new barrels) comes from vines aged between 40 and 85 years. La

Bossière is a younger plot, as it had to be re-planted after being frosted in 1985. So this is a mere - but very respectable ! - 30 years old. We may be sure that both La Bossière and Lavaut-Saint-Jacques in particular will have benefitted from the cool air coming down their little valley, to help maintain precious freshness.

CHARLES VAN CANNEYT

For some time now Charles van Canneyt has been making waves and garnering high scores for his wines at Domaine Hudelot-Noëllat. DOMAINE LAUNAY-HORIOT

↑ 2 Sep 2020 - Owner Xavier Horiot (man in black, front) is a hands-on wine-maker, here de-blocking his de-stemmer. He'd picked his Chambertin grapes Tues. 1st Sept., and Latricières-Chambertin Wed. 2nd Sept, where his Pommard-Rugiens had been picked a week before - an example of essential 2020 vintage fine-tuning. Pommard Les Perrières at end - to be finished by Thurs 3 Sept..

In Xavier Horiot you see a calm yet determined man – goal-oriented with a sense of precision. It's a personality that no doubt served him well as a software engineer, and before that as a fighter pilot in the French Air Force. It took him many years to win control of his family domaine – something many people told him he would not achieve. But he did – after several years in French family court.

In our view the wine world is better off because of his victory. To taste in his cellar is to experience bright, clear wines of specific terroir character. The Burgundy-loving wine community, smart as it is, we are sure will discover the superb quality emanating from Domaine Launay-Horiot and eagerly seek its wines. The domaine includes rare ownership of vines in Côte de Nuits grands crus vineyards Latricières-Chambertin and Chambertin itself. These are as wonderful as you might expect and will help gain him a following. But this is also a Pommard domaine, with some of the very best plots in the village – including a fine collection of 1ers Crus. We can't wait for you to taste them – for us they were a revelation.

DOMAINE LAURENT ROUMIER

This Domaine owns superb plots within the commune of Chambolle-Musigny where it is based, along with a major section of Grand Maupertuis, high up within the Clos Vougeot. Laurent Roumier's father, Alain Roumier, was for many years the renowned cellar master at Domaine Comte Georges de Vogüé, and his grandfather Georges founded the original family domaine in the 1920s. Alain had six children, and it was not until 1991 that the youngest, Laurent, began wine-making, taking on additional vineyards following the untimely death of his elder brother Hervé, in 2004.

Wine-making here is respectful of the family traditions. Chambolle-Musigny 1er Cru Les Charmes comes from vines which are at least 45 years old. The Bonnes-Mares plot has many 80-year-old vines, with replacement of missing plants happening, where required. The domaine owns two plots in Clos-Vougeot, the low-down one being sold as grapes, the other, with vines averaging 50 years old, making up approximately 95% of this bottling - so this is a top Clos-Vougeot.

LES HORÉES

Catharina Sadde is without doubt one of the new stars of Burgundy. This talented and inspiring young winemaker from Germany created Les Horées in 2018 with the accompanied by her husband, Guilhem. The name "Les Horées" is in reference to the Greek festivals celebrating the seasons.

Catharina released her first vintage in 2019 and immediately on burgundy lovers' radar. The domaine has 1.3ha of vineyards in Pommard, Volnay and Beaune, planted with Aligoté and Pinot Noir, with also purchases of grapes from serious growers whom share the same philosophy. Everything in the vineyard is done manually with care, including horse plowing and Biodynamics approach. In the cellar, vinification is carried out without sulphites, using only natural yeasts. A slight dose of sulphites is added during bottling.

Catharina was trained at Geisenheim, one of the most renowned wine schools in Germany, and has a rather extraordinary experiences among some of the greatest Burgundy domaines: Domaine de la Romanée-Conti, Comte Armand, Marquis d'Angerville, Comte Vogüé and Cécile Tremblay. Before joining her dream adventure in Burgundy, Catharina began her career as a chef in a starred restaurant in Germany. But she left the stove to embark on her devouring passion for wine.

CHÂTEAU DE LA MALTROYE

Jean-Pierre Cournut is the owner of some of the most highly-prized 1st Growths of Chassagne-Montrachet, from the southern, central and northerly sectors of the commune, and his wines show rich variety, complexity, freshness and generous length. Les Grandes Ruchottes and La Romanée lie high on the hillside to the south, on shallow soils, uphill from the extensive climat of Morgeot. Les Vignes Blanches is a part of Morgeot, close to the ruins of the historic abbey, on clay-rich, deeper soils, more central slope. His Monopole vineyard, exclusively owned, the Clos du Château de la Maltroye lies just downhill from the village itself. The Chardonnays here (representing 40% of the area planted) were 60 years old, for the 2019 vintage, the Pinots Noirs averaging 56 years. Rarest of all is Cournut's 1er Cru Dent de Chien, which touches Grand Cru Le Montrachet, to the north of the commune. Its wine used to be sold as Le Montrachet, before 1936. It covers one fifth of a hectare. His Bâtard-Montrachet is entirely on the Chassagne-Montrachet sector of the Grand.

Chateau du Moulin-a-Vent | Domaine Marcel Lapierre

DOMAINE PAUL PERNOT

Domaine Paul Pernot has one of the grandest holdings in Puligny-Montrachet, including an enviable number of 1ers Crus as well as the Grands Crus Bienvenues-Bâtard-Montrachet and Bâtard-Montrachet. Recognised for their high quality, much of what they produce goes to supply négociants in Burgundy, while the finest of their wines are bottled at the domaine, and offered in this list below. The style here is rounded in texture, supple, creamy without being heavy, with good freshness and generous fruit concentration.

Highlights of the Paul Pernot range include the Puligny-Montrachet, which comes from several low-yielding plots lying just below the 1er Cru vineyard, including Grands Champs, Brelance, Rue aux Vaches and Enseignères. Les Chalumaux 1er Cru is the oldest vineyard in the domaine, dating from 1954, planted by Alvina's grandfather. The land had rested for many decades, so vines have benefitted from many natural nutrients while they have aged, and are still vigorous. The holding in Bienvenues-Bâtard-Montrachet is an important one, with vines dating half from 1966 & 1967, the balance from 1991.

DOMAINE PERROT-MINOT

The origins of this domaine go back over 150 years, but it really sprang to prominence with 4th generation Christophe Perrot-Minot joining the estate in 1993. He had previously worked 7 years as a broker, gaining insights and experiences from work with many of the greatest Burgundy estates. He has expanded the domaine, and the sourcing of top wines (where he decides the harvest dates), and built a cutting-edge new winery, with exceptional facilities. A three-part sorting process allows only the finest berries, and the cleanest juices, to fall within the fermentation vats.

No fining, no filtration, and bottling by gravity are established practises here. One may single out a number of vineyards where the vines are particularly mature and deep-rooted : Vosne Champs Perdrix (which lies uphill from La Grande Rue), 45 years on average; Vosne Beaumonts 49 years; Morey-Saint-Denis La Riotte 55 years, Clos de Bèze 50-52 years; Chambolle Combe d'Orveau Cuvée Ultra (near Le Musigny) 77 years old; Nuits La Richemone Cuvée Ultra more than 100, the vines having been planted in 1902.

DOMAINE PIERRE GIRARDIN

↑ 14 Sep 2020 - Here Pierre Girardin, after harvest end, with many whites fermenting in specially-made 456-litre barrels (twice a normal-sized barrel), the reds in stainless steel, in high-tech winery. No punching down or treading here, instead, it's pumping over.

Domaine Pierre Girardin has risen like a phoenix from the ashes of his father Vincent's estate, which had a long history, going back as Burgundy vine-growers for more than 10 generations. Vincent decided to sell most of his vineyards in 2011, but he retained some of the best, in Meursault, Pommard and Volnay, with Puligny-Montrachet Les Folatières, in case his then-young son Pierre might wish to pick up the embers. This has indeed happened, and Pierre made his first wines aged 21. Now he has built a superb new winery in Meursault, where the first vintage was 2018. Pierre is bringing passionate energies to bear on the produce of the family's vines, as well as other sites, where he either sources grapes, or manages the cultivation.

Building a new winery from scratch meant key decisions for equipment. Pierre's policy is to vinify his whites in oak barrels containing 456 litres – double the size of a classic Burgundy barrel. This means smaller surfaces for exchange between wine and wood, with less penetration of air, to ensure maximum aromatic freshness. It also brings about less evaporation, and has allowed him to reduce sulphur dioxide use. 95% of his barrels are in this size, and he does not believe in lees-rousing. The whites spend a year in barrel, then are assembled in tank. His Meursault Narvaux grapes came from a white-marl, limestone-rich soil giving complex wines with fruit density and freshness. Meursault-Charmes came from mid-slope and the heart of the 1er Cru, which bring roundness and flesh. Bâtard-Montrachet grapes originated in an 85 year old vineyard on the Chassagne-Montrachet side, with Corton-Charlemagne being an assemblage of grapes from both Pernand-Vergelesses and Ladoix.

For the reds, Pierre bought many small stainless steel vats with floating tops, and believes in careful temperature control during fermentation, at lowest possible levels, with little or no intervention. 100% whole bunches were retained for Gevrey-Chambertin Lavaux Saint Jacques and Corton-Bressandes. After 12 months in barrel, typically using 35-50% new barrels for 1er Crus, racking and assembling took place, with Côte de Beaune reds being bottled in December, then the Côte de Nuits in February. Clos-Vougeot is from a parcel lying in mid-Clos, between the two Châteaux. Echezeaux grapes coming from Les Treux, the vines lying close to Grands-Echézeaux.

DOMAINE TORTOCHOT

↑ 12 Sep 2020 - Chantal Tortochot is part of growers picking late, she started on August 30th. Happy to have waited that long. On average 15% - 20% whole-bunch fermentation here. Gentle extraction because the vintage is already giving a lot (colour, tannins, acidity, ripeness), like other producers, they have less quantity but great quality.

Domaine Tortochot comprises 12 hectares and is based in Gevrey-Chambertin, but they also have vines in Morey-St.-Denis. It's run by Brigitte and Chantal Tortochot, the fourth generation of the family now making wine. Chantal handles the daily activities at the winery. When Chantal took over from her father, she set about converting the vineyards to organic and in 2013 received ECO certification. Chantal describes her style: "Here we make a more traditional Gevrey Chambertin, with lots of fruit, strong tannins and good acidity. These are not really Pinots that can be drunk early...you have to be a little patient."

The wines of Domaine Tortochot are from vineyards they farm organically showing her belief that the quality of the wine is impacted by what takes place in the vineyard first. The quality of the fruit and concentration is there and comes through in the glass.

Les Corvées is made from a .86 ha parcel of 60-year-old vines in Gevrey-Chambertin. The vines of 1er Cru Lavaux-Saint-Jacques are at average 55 years old, with ~25% whole bunches being retained, to give a balanced wine with seductive, silky tannins texture. Charmes-Chambertin here is a single plot, within the original section of the Grand Cru, the vines being approximately 55 years old. Natural tartaric acidity has been retained, to bring freshness and balance. The Chambertin holding is in the upper section of the Grand Cru, near where the trees begin. The closeness to vegetation means that these grapes reach ripeness without over-heating, so the wine may show energy, finesse and superb length.

In addition, the wines are made to age, not simply with short term appreciation in mind. Chantal devotes one vineyard to experimentation showing that tradition is important, but she is also forward thinking and mindful of making improvements.

VINCENT DANCER

Everyone agrees that Vincent Dancer is unquestionably one of the most gifted perfectionist and creative winegrowers of his generation. He established his domaine in the lower party of Chassagne-Montrachet in 1996 and spent 7 years in search of the ultimate goal: to produce "living" and inhabited wines, reflecting with precision and balance the purity of their origin. It was not until 2003 before he considers that his wines are worthy of being marketed under his own label.

Vincent owes many of his holdings to the Lochardet inheritance - so he share many vineyards with Domaine Ballot-Millot & Heitz- Lochardet (Armand Heitz). His vineyards have been certified organic since 2012, one of the very first producers in Chassagne. His cellar practices are as minimal as possible: he uses no new wood for his red wines, no temperature control, no stems and no pumping over - just an occasional push down, the wines will have sulphur levels adjusted when they are racked a month before bottling. Thus, each cuvéé is the identity of each terroir, with tremendous complexity and structural balance.

Unfortunately, the Domaine's production is extremely limited while the demand is exponential.

CHÂTEAU DU MOULIN-À-VENT

If you drive down to Moulin-à-Vent from Côte de Beaune, what strikes you right away as you got out of the car is the wind. You can feel it immediately. This wind combined with the iron and manganese in the soils helps to limit the yields of the vines resulting in wines of power, concentration and the ability to age for many years.

At the heart of Moulin-à-Vent is the Château du Moulin-à-Vent, established in 1732, with its collection of prized vineyards, which since 2009 has been owned by Jean-Jacques Parinet. Significant upgrades to viticultural practices and vinification have been made. This estate has caught the attention of Allen Meadows (Burghound), and David Schildknecht (Robert Parker's Wine Advocate), and listed as one of the TOP 100 Wineries of 2021 by the New York-based Wines and Spirits Magazine, and Edouard Parinet is the current generation leading the Domaine.

Here is a brief breakdown of the cuvées:

Moulin-à-Vent – the estate wine, it is made from a South-east exposed clay-rich plateau of deeply weathered granite rock that forces the Gamay vines to go deep to find nutrients. Classic, serious Moulin-à-Vent with ripe dark cherry-like fruit, and a fresh herbal note and fine acidity.

Champ de Cour – comes from an east-facing vineyard located 220 metres in altitude and it is one of Château du Moulin-à-Vent flatter vineyards. The soils are granite and clay and are deeper. This terroir is especially good for hot vintages. This cuvée always showed a deeper, darker fruit quality on the nose leading on through to the palate, with medium-plus tannins and more body, only around 8,000 bottles are produced every vintage.

La Rochelle – is considered the most serious of wine, the 'Grand Cru' in the portfolio. The vines are 70 years old and are grown in full southern exposure. There is more silica in the soil here too. This wine conveyed more sweet fruit both on the nose and on the palate with flavours of dark raspberry and blackberry dominating as well as minerality and spice coming through. It's intensely concentrated with medium-plus tannins but these are fine tannins rather than aggressive or harsh. The tannins combined with the fruit concentration and acid structure of the wine make it feel like one with many years ahead and quite worthy of cellaring.

Croix des Verillats – comes from one of their highest altitude vineyards, so there's a lot of wind. This east-exposed vineyard is made up of granitic sand and the soils are quite shallow. It's my favourite wine from Château du Moulin-à-Vent. The grapes are small and concentrated creating an intense wine. It is very perfumed wine with floral notes as well as fresh berry flavours. Minerality interweaves through these mixed berries and floral aromas combined to create a medium-plus bodied wine with a long length.

Clos des Londres – only produced in the very best year from a specific clos of 0.56 hectares facing the Château. This walled vineyard of decomposed granite soil is planted with vines of 40 years old. The prestige label from Château du Moulin-à-Vent, its backward and concentrated characters requires further cellaring.

DOMAINE MARCEL LAPIERRE

Marcel Lapierre makes highly sought after wines from Morgon, the second largest cru in Beaujolais known for the longevity of its wines as well as their brilliant perfumed character. These wines are the elites among lovers of natural wine as Marcel Lapierre is one of the key figures in this movement, and he has inspired many passionate winemakers who have come after. They offer beautiful floral aromatics, lively vibrancy on the palate with a range of flavours and complexity as well as an ability to age in your cellar.

Marcel Lapierre passed away in 2010. His son Mathieu had joined him at the domaine in 2004, Mathieu having learned his winemaking and viticultural skills not only from studies at school but also through working with his father. Then, in 2013, Marcel's daughter, Camille joined to help her brother in running the domaine.

In the vines, the work is done with a primary focus on nature and the environment; the vines have been certified organic since 2004. The vines are planted high density in the vineyards to promote quality and concentration in the resulting wine. For harvest, picking in small containers and sorting for clean, healthy and ripe fruit are key tenets of the philosophy at Domaine Marcel Lapierre.

Then the gamay bunches are put into the fermentation vats whole, and they allow 'carbonic maceration' to occur. Then, indigenous yeast kicks off the rest of the fermentation process. The wine will go into used barrels for ageing. It's then racked and put into vats before bottling. There is no filtering and only a little sulphur is used if the wine is destined for international markets. The use of sulphur is kept at a minimum if used at all.

Raisins Gaulois is a cuvée created for early drinking from the young vines at the domaine. It's meant to be fruity and lively, perfect for summer afternoon sipping. Morgon is the signature wine of the domaine and showcases the four primary flavours associated with this cru – cherry, violet, raspberry and liquorice.

Cuvée Camille is made from 1 hectare of old vines located in Côte du Py. The first vintage of this wine was made in 2013. With this wine, intense and expressive aromatics are the signature notes.

The Cuvée Marcel Lapierre is only made in outstanding vintages and is made from the oldest vines that are located on the domaine's best sites in Morgon. Thus, the grapes for this cuvée are from Côte du Py and the 'Le Douby' climate near Fleurie. And the production level for this wine is kept low being made from no more than 2.5 hectares. The defining feature in this cuvée was its concentration on the palate and structure; it displayed characteristics indicating many more years ahead for this wine.
